Friedrich did not completely cut ties with Kallstadt. He came back several times, and in 1912, he even married the girl next door, Elisabeth, and brought her back several times, and in 1902, when his wife became homeless, she accepted the hospitality of Friedrich, which eventually led to the melt-down of their relationship.

Friedrich was not the first to open a wine cellar in Kallstadt. The people of Kallstadt are known for their hospitality and open-mindedness, yet they are skeptical about a visit by the US president to his grandfather’s hometown. In Kallstadt, nobody takes things for granted, but it is easy to understand why the people of Kallstadt might be surprised by the idea of a Trump visit.

Friedrich’s father, who was born in 1875, was involved in the wine trade and was known for his enthusiasm for the wine-growing region. When he died in 1909, Friedrich inherited his father’s wine cellar, which he later sold to a friend of his. Friedrich’s son, who was born in 1902, was also involved in the wine trade and is remembered for his love of hunting and fishing. Friedrich’s grandson, who was born in 1929, is remembered for his love of sports and music. Friedrich’s great-grandson, who was born in 1951, is remembered for his love of art and travel.

Friedrich’s great-great-grandson, who was born in 1975, is remembered for his love of wine and the environment. Friedrich’s great-great-great-grandson, who was born in 2001, is remembered for his love of science and technology. Friedrich’s great-great-great-great-grandson, who was born in 2020, is remembered for his love of nature and the environment.
